UNIT FRONT DOOR SURFACE MAINTENANCE

The front door of your unit is fire rated and not a regular solid wood door, therefore it is more sensitive to the effect of our island weather. More care and maintenance is required when using laminate applications outdoors. If the laminate cracks and starts to separate, the whole door will need to be refinished and could cost more than buying a new door.

These products as shown below can be used to maintain your door and can be purchased at most hardware stores.

Island Refinishing offers maintenance on unit doors; this service costs around $100. If your front door is in the initial stages of peeling and cracking, it may help to have it refinished, this costs approximately $165.
